30. [ ] LIAISON Dr. James George, newly-appointed minority staff member for national security affairs of the House Government Operations Committee and former staffer of former Senator Bill Brock (R., Tenn.), asked that someone stop by to chat with him. When I did in early afternoon, he discussed his private venture as program coordinator for a conference on Naval affairs which the conservative "think tank" American Enterprise Institute is holding in October. He is going to send the DCI an invitation next week to address the group, and only wanted to try to informally insure that the letter would bring a prompt response. I said I would pass the word and that I felt confident the answer would be forthcoming soon after the invitation was received.
